Working well with support coordinators

We take time to get to know each person: what matters to them, their routines and the people around them.

We're a growing team with experienced people, including workers who know how to support young people with complex behaviour, intellectual disability and youth justice involvement.

How we work with you

- ✓ Consistent, familiar workers, not someone new every few weeks
- ✓ Regular updates, so everyone involved stays in the loop
- ✓ Steady routines, so each day feels predictable
- ✓ Working alongside the wider team, including behaviour support plans

What we deliver

CORE SUPPORTS

- Personal care and daily living
- Household tasks and domestic assistance
- Community and social participation
- Respite (on request)
- Supported Independent Living (SIL)
- Transport

CAPACITY BUILDING SUPPORTS

- Innovative Community Participation
- Support coordination

We work with self-managed, plan-managed and NDIA-managed plans.

Support provided Australia-wide.
